

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Substrates for producing a DNA library are produced by immobilizing DNA onto a suitable substrate having excellent thermal conductivity. A surface of the substrate is chemically modified with a radical having a terminal polar radical. DNA can be amplified by the PCR method in a short period of time using substrates of the present invention onto which DNA is immobilized.

F:\,O\Ohta\tange2\pto\substitute spec.wpd